Starting your own Innovative Business? CÉIM is here to help you

CÉIM is the most successful enterprise development programme in the North West. It is offered by the Institute of Technology Sligo and Letterkenny Institute of Technology, in collaboration with, Enterprise Ireland and Údarás na Gaeltachta. The programme is now recruiting for its fifth year and is targeted at people with innovative business ideas (which have high commercial and export potential) who live or wish to relocate to the North West region. CEIM will consider applications from third level graduates, people who want a career change or who have been made redundant.

CÉIM is a full-time business start-up programme delivered over one year. The programme will target potential entrepreneurs with innovative business ideas with high commercial potential. Successful applicants will benefit from training, mentoring, financial and other business supports, networking opportunities and incubation space.

What it provides to Entrepreneurs:

- Training in all areas of business
- Grant aid from Enterprise Ireland or Údarás na Gaeltachta for eligible applicants
- Mentoring from experienced business advisors and practitioners relevant to participant's projects
- Office and other business incubation facilities at ITSBIC Sligo or LYIT BDC Letterkenny.
- Networking with other entrepreneurs and business development agencies
- Introduction to seed and early stage capital investment organisations.
